Los Angeles Figures.

Dallas Uses Them to Show What a Mighty City It Will Be. From the Dallas Nescs.

When a Californian isn't talking climate he is pretty likely to be boosting real estate or figuring population. THE NEW YORK HERALD has found a Los Angeles real estate man who got his pencil and paper to working and proved that in 1980 Los Angeles will have DRY GOODS MEN TO HOLD ore people than New York. He figures it out beautifully. From 1910 to 1920
Los Angeles grew 80 per cent. larger while New York only grew 20 per cent. Thereupon The New York Herald made by the National Retail Dry Good.

Simple, isn't it? All little Los Angeles has to do is set a pace of cighty miles an hour while New York jogs along at one-fourth that speed. But speeding is often disastrous, and what if Los Angeles develops engine trouble?

But wait a bit. Dallas increased between 70 and 80 per cent. during the Hooley in Brooklyn, and Charley when it comes to be 1980. # NATIONAL TRADE FAIR Lower Prices.

Association through the method of holding a national trade fair next August, either in this city or in Chicago, is which virtually all of the larger dry goods and department stores will participate. The actual work of planning the fair, the first of its kind ever to be heid in this country, started yesterday with the appointment of Col. Michael Friedsam, president of B. Altman & Co., as chairman of the general executive committee for the fair.

The fair is said to be the outgrowth of discussions held by various retail merchants at their convention held here contingent on the success of the first fair next August.

That the method proposed will elimi-That the method proposed will climate both buying and selling costs by presenting merchandise to the consumer direct is the opinion of those in charge of the plan. Through this system it is believed that the retailers can lower their buying costs and the wholesale merchants reduce their selling costs in a material degree.

merchants reduce their selling costs in a material degree.

According to Col. Friedsam, the affair wHl "prove a double edged implement of economy." It is pointed out that greater number of purchases by the public, with the costs of buying and selling reduced for both wholesnier and retailer, mean cheaper goods for the consumer and an equitable profit for the dealer.
